FOREWARD

A yearbook tells the story of the year. This year at Tuba City High School, was one of trying hard to do the best by everyone in everything. When people try that hard, it is because they take pride in what they are involved in. Therefore, the theme of this year's story is TAKE PRIDE IN... the Administration, the Underclasses, the Organizations, Sports, Seniors, the Honors recieved, and School Life. We hope you will enjoy this book as much as we enjoyed putting it together.

TCHS HAS A WIDE FIELD OF EDUCATORS

The Tuba City High School is constantly striving to broaden its curriculum to meet the needs of its Student Body. This year some additional subjects were introduced to the Student Body for their selections. To mention a few of these are: Contemporary History, Indian History, and Mechanical Drawing.

Also new faces are to be seen among our teachers to go with our expanding school program.

Three pleasant faculty faces got married this year. Miss Herring and Mr. Marsh became Mr. and Mrs. Marsh. Mr. Shapiro also gave up bachelorhood.

A BRIEF GLANCE AT SCHOOL LIFE AT T.C.H.S.

Some start the day with good intentions.

Shooting the breeze before the bell!

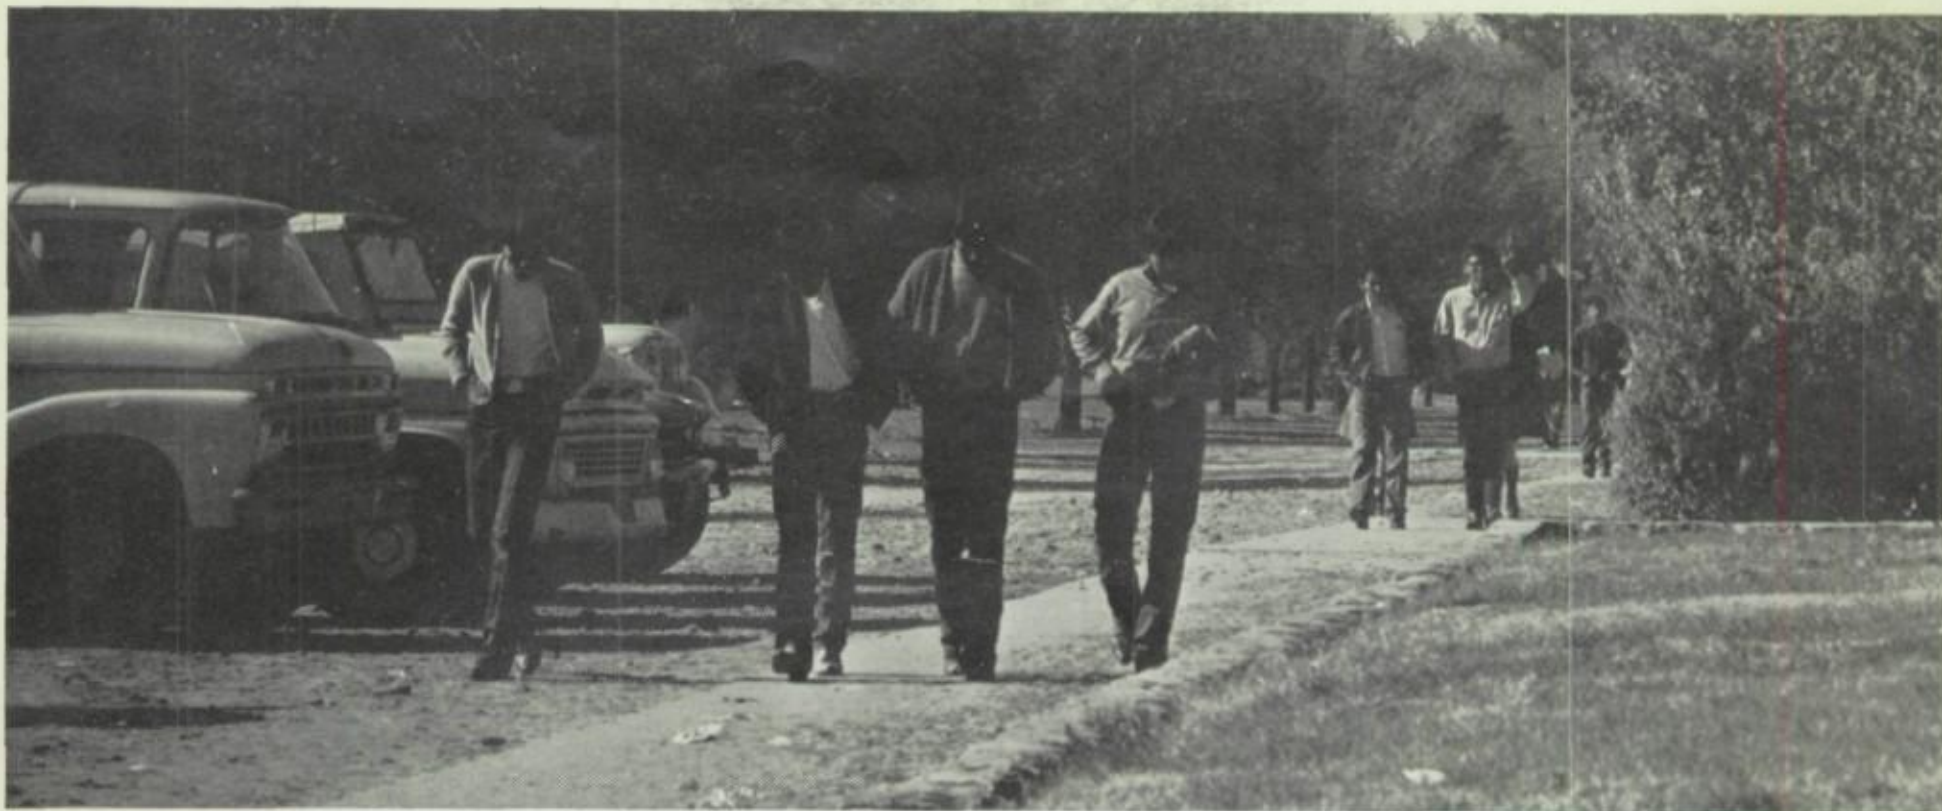

The beginning of another day brings new learning experiences!

*Pitching
in again for the first time*

*Thanks for letting me sign your annual!
Have fun
this summer
Good-bye Always Raymond*

Some students aren't too enthused about starting another school day.

Why worry about books when you have a friendly smile.

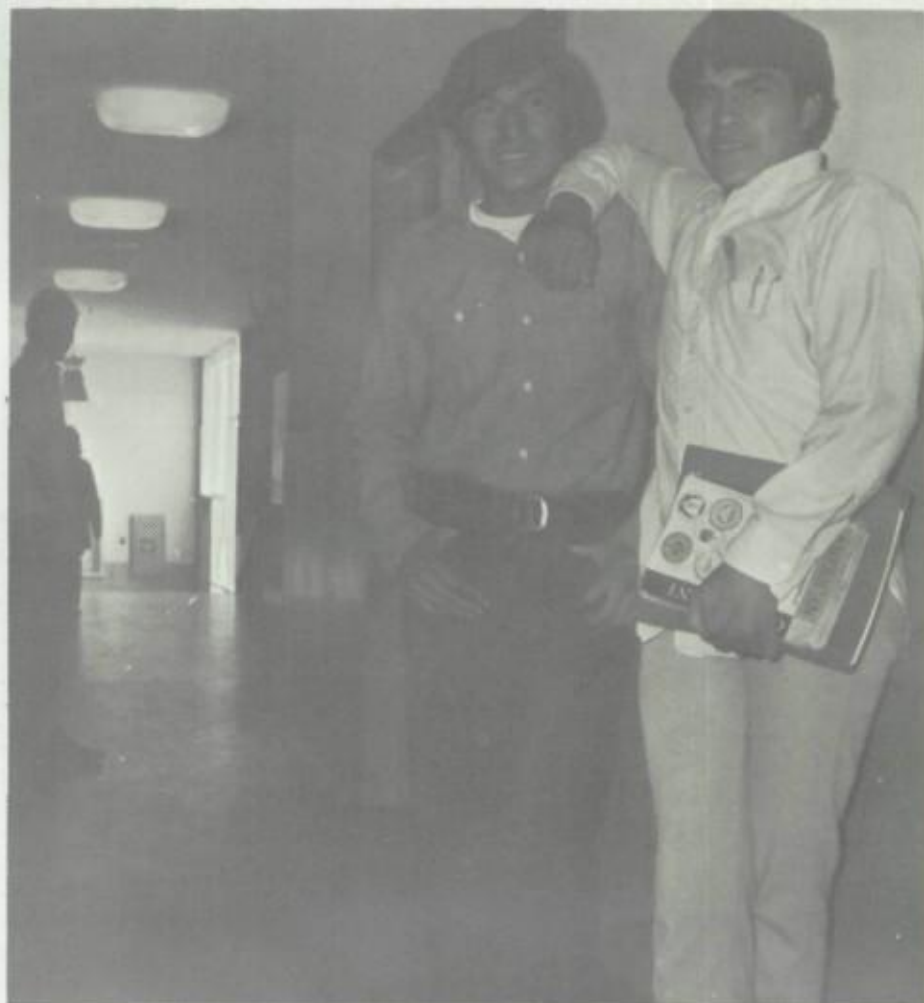

I didn't have time to finish my breakfast!

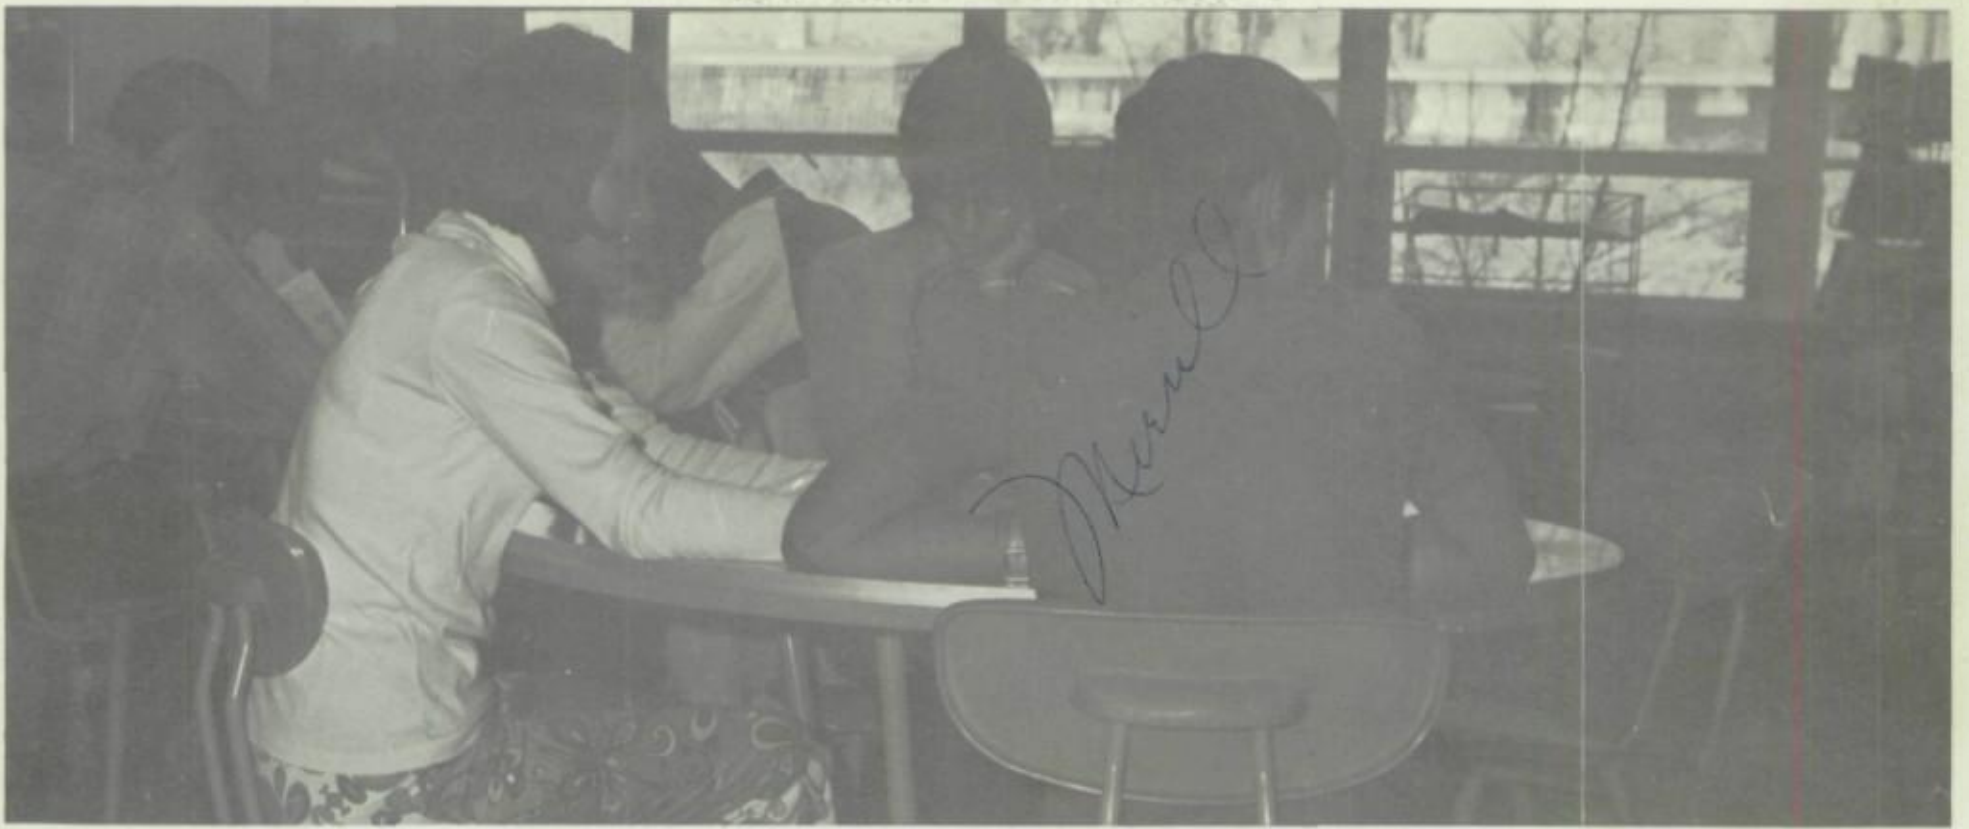

Kenny, is the subject matter more interesting in the hallway than in the classroom?

Fellows, anything interesting on the bulletin board?

Jim, tell Marty that's not part of the class discussion.

Genevieve thinks studying in the library can be fun if you study with boys.

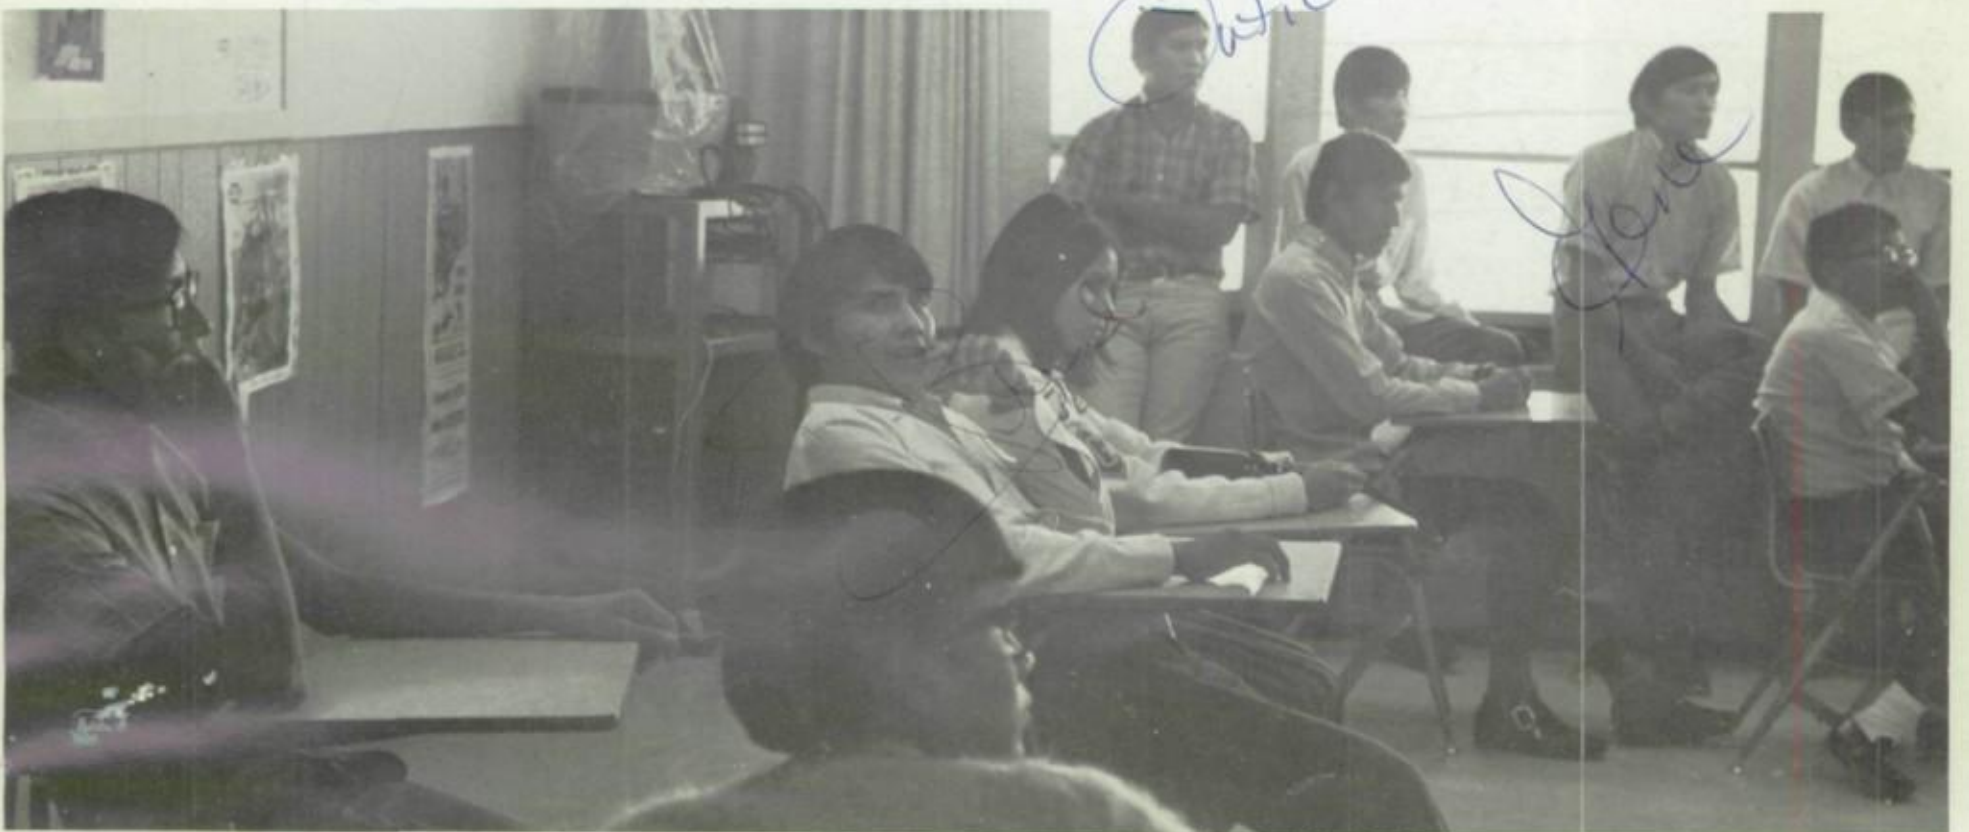

Teacher, would you repeat that again, please.

Gerald, is that the latest Playboy?

Sometimes I just don't get it!

Mr. Chairman, we tried to raise money that way last year but it didn't work!

Giving our Warriors a good send-off!

Some people have all the luck! The band is going to the game.

A little social life to lighten the load.
We also appreciate the finer things of life at T. C. H. S.

Is that better than going to the cafeteria?

Girls, that's fattening!

A little snack never hurts anyone.

No homework tonight if I can finish my assignment in class.

Are you girls finished with your assignment?

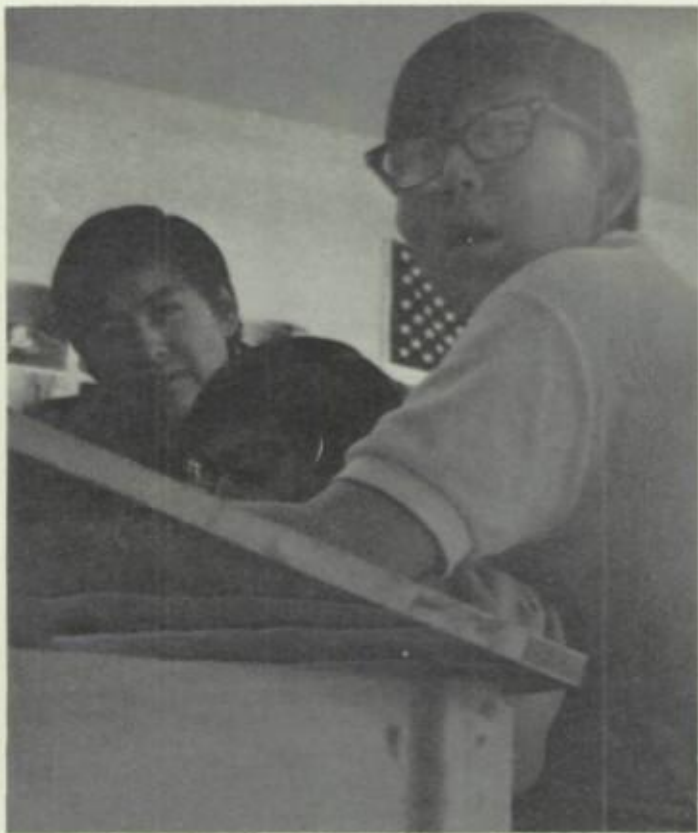

Some people ditched to go sell ads for the annual.

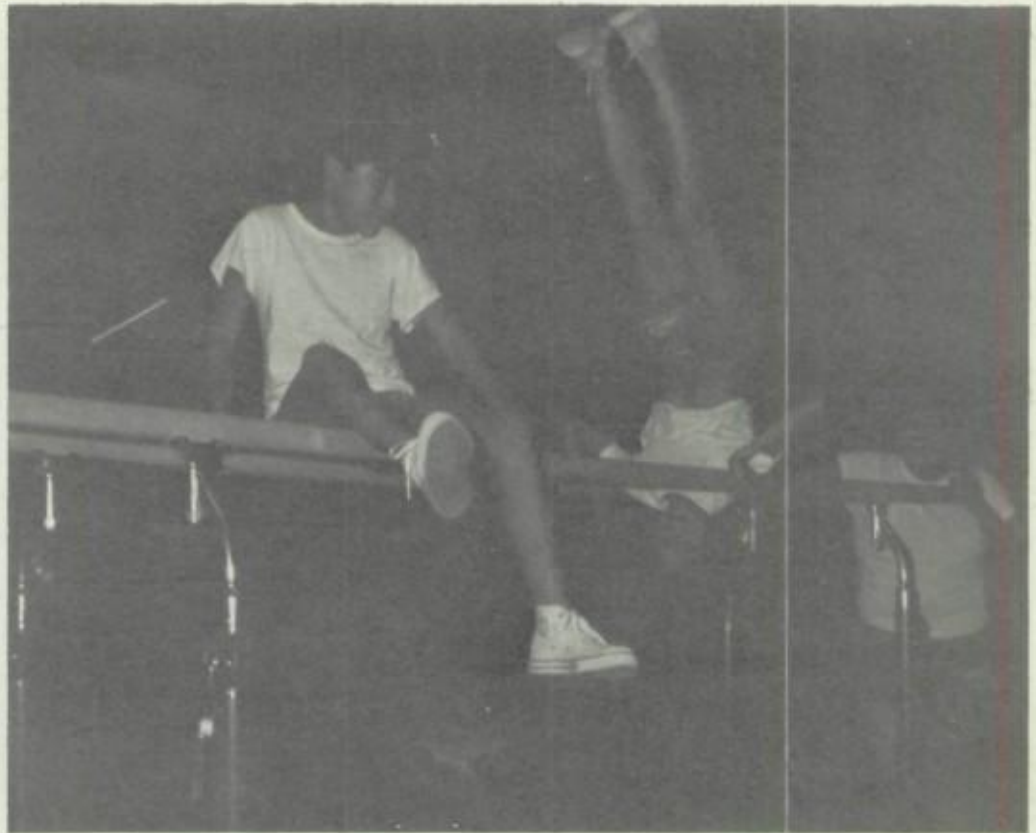

What's the big rush to leave?

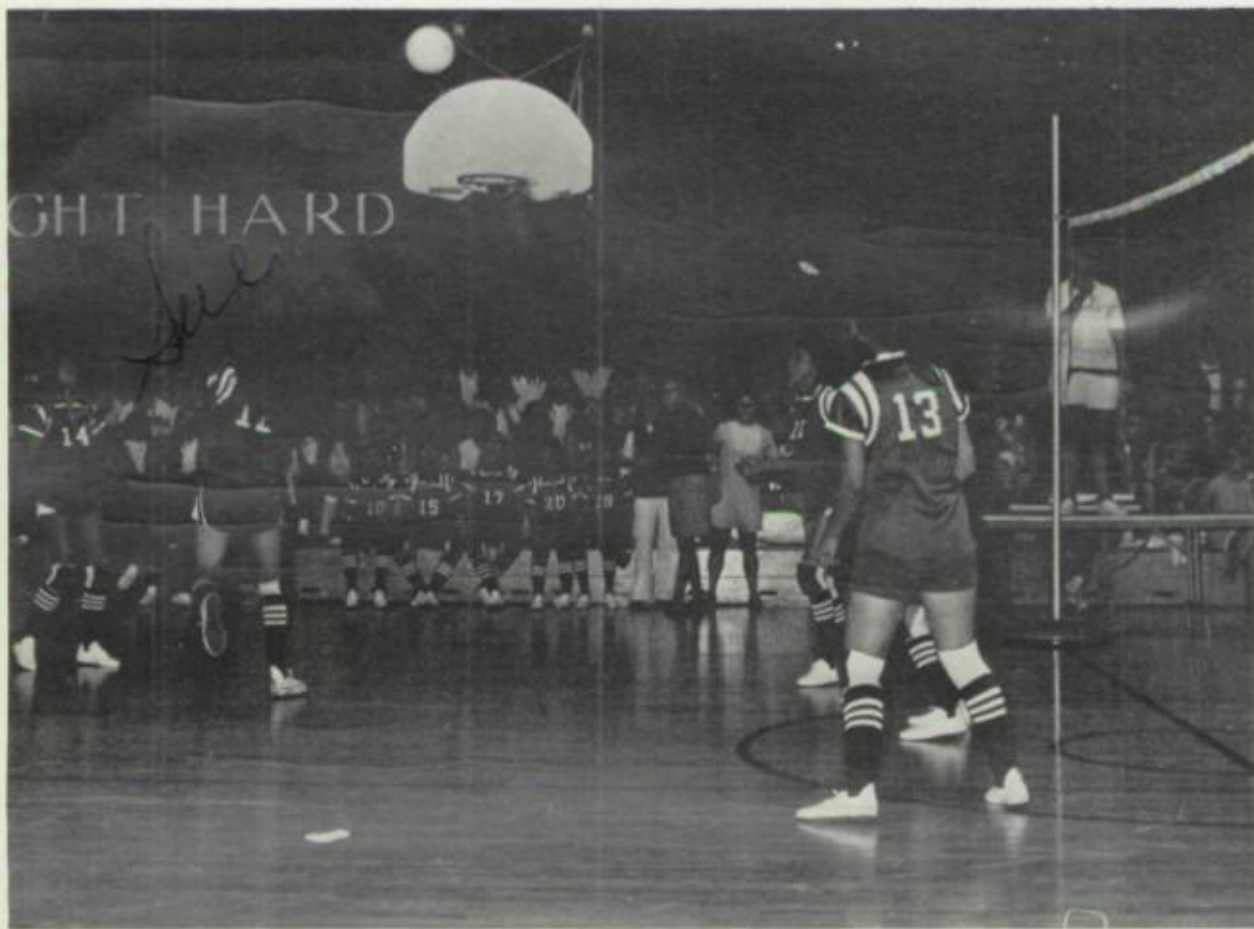

Some people found time to glare at cameras!!

You say this is art?

I say there, "You're in P.E., not clowning."

Girl's Volleyball provided excitement during some days.

Leaving so soon?

Very best of luck in whatever you set out to do in the coming of your sophomore year on to the yr. of Senior. So wishing you everything. Hope you have a good warm summer vacation.
But be sure to return to good ole T.C.H.S. because that is where you get a good education.
Good luck always Johnny

Every ring tells a story

This is a portrait of the life span of a tree. In a single sitting, you can see more than 70 rings, each representing a year's growth.

As a youngster, this tree entered into competition with other trees — for moisture, sunshine and soil nourishment. The struggle was hard, but it stood erect, strong and tall, just as you have done. And the signs of maturity and productivity become readily noticeable.

As you add new "rings" to your personal progress, seeking new heights in the challenging world ahead — use your knowledge well and keep your spirit of competition alive and strong. Then each year you add will be a story you'll be proud to tell.
